NEWS & UPDATES

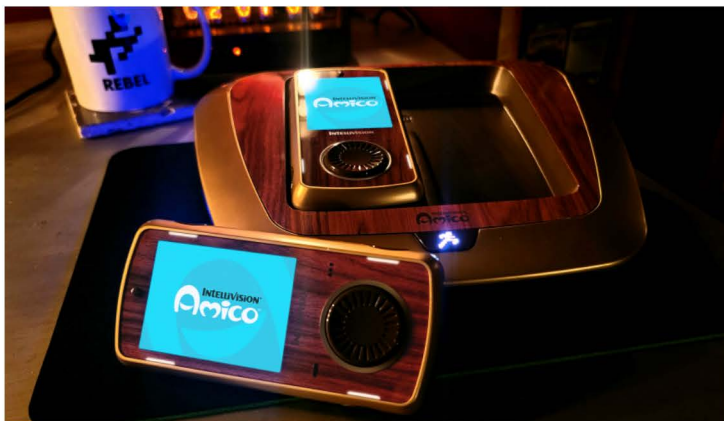

IT'S THAT TIME OF YEAR!

The holidays give us time to spend with family and friends, reflecting on the past year and looking forward to the future. Thanks for being a member of the Intellivision family.

We wish you, your family, and your friends a very safe and happy holiday season!

IT'S ALL ABOUT THE PLASTICS!

As we progress and accomplish goals in the production phase of manufacturing, we want to share one of our recent achievements while we continue to navigate our release date.

Our pilot production plastics are in! We will use these plastics for the final verification of mass production tooling setup and processing. They will also be used in our initial run with our contract manufacturer, giving the manufacturing team an opportunity to validate various assembly and quality control processes in preparation for mass production.
