CBS ELECTRONICS TO RELEASE
EIGHT TITLES FOR MATTEL'S INTELLIVISION®

JUNE 1983 -- In July, CBS Electronics will release its first two video games for the Intellivision® system. During the second half of 1983, this unit of the toy division of CBS Inc. plans to introduce six additional titles.

The July releases are:

- ⊗ WIZARD OF WOR™*, a multi-level underground maze game that pits the player against a diabolical Wizard and his devious armies.
- ⊗ GORF™*, a fast action, intergalactic space game with four challenging battles including a confrontation with the enemy Flag Ship.

In August, three new titles are slated for release:

- ⊗ BLUEPRINT™*, a memory game with an obnoxious bully, a damsel in distress, exploding bombs and a hidden code word.
- ⊗ SOLAR FOX™*, a challenging game that tests agility and coordination in 26 perplexing patterns including challenge racks and a secret code word.
- ⊗ OMEGA RACE™*, with unusual graphics, Droid Ships, Vapor Missiles and a madly spinning Death Ship.

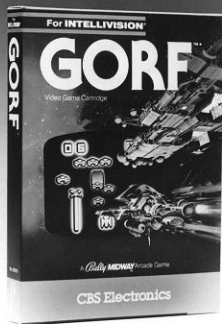

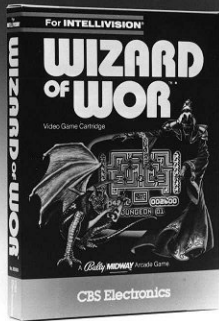

During the fourth quarter, CBS Electronics will release WINGS™, MADDEN FOOTBALL™, and DOMINO MAN™.
